

ITALY 2006

21st March – Pompeii & Vesuvius

Various views of the Roman ruins at Pompeii

Below right – prior to the 79AD eruption Vesuvius had a conical summit. You can see how much was thrown out during the eruption by following the line of the outer slopes up to where they join

Left – walking the summit ridge on Vesuvius

Below Catherine & I in front of the southerly view. Pompeii is the dark area just to the left of me.

